Highly experienced Kenya driver-guides we know well!

John & Dixie are terrific tour leaders - John has led over forty previous photo tours to Kenya

In Country: January 16 - 30, 2027

This is the perfect photo tour for photographing Kenya's birds and mammals!

A Masai Mara Sunrise with the iconic Acacia Tree

We have run this schedule for the past two safaris, and it has been absolutely terrific!

John led his first Kenya photo tour in 1981. That experience changed his life! Over 45 years John has led at least 40 tours to photograph wildlife in Kenya's best game parks. The wildlife, people, and overall African experience continues to make Kenya our favorite place for wildlife photography. Travel with John and Dixie for the trip of a lifetime! You will have a fabulous time photographing Kenya's wildlife under the expert guidance of John and Dixie and their favorite hand-picked native Kenya driver-guides.

We will photograph the wildlife at Amboseli, Samburu, and the spectacular Masai Mara. Each park is quite different from the others, and they all offer unique wildlife photo opportunities. Amboseli is teeming with an immense variety of birds and mammals that are attracted to the wetlands in the dry environment. Amboseli is known for the largest elephants in Africa, and the wetlands are loaded with birds and mammals. Samburu is the desert park where the Ewaso Nyiro river flows through and wildlife abound along this river corridor where water is otherwise scarce in this dry environment. Many species are unique to this park, including Somali ostrich, Beisa oryx, Reticulated giraffe, Grevy's zebra, Gunther's dik-dik and gerenuk. And the abundant birdlife is amazing! We complete our trip with the most days in the grasslands of the famous Masai Mara that are teeming with mammals and birds, and it is the best place to photograph cheetahs, leopards, and lions.

Everyone wants to photograph the big cats -- cheetah, leopard, and lions. We are always looking for them and will photograph them anytime we find them. Plus, we photograph all the other mammals when they are in photogenic spots and in excellent light. All photo tours do that. We are different from other tours by photographing numerous colorful birds. Kenya hosts over 1100 bird species, and we can readily identify a few hundred of the species you are most likely to see. John and Dixie are keen to help tour participants photograph as many species as possible.

Important Advantages offered with our Deluxe Kenya Photo Safari

Your Own Row in the Safari Vehicle!

Having a window seat is terrific if the animal is on your side of the vehicle, but not good at all if you wish to successfully photograph an animal on the other side of the vehicle when you have another passenger in front of you. Though it cost more money, each participant has their own row in the vehicle making it easy to photograph out both sides of the vehicle, either from the lower windows or the open roof hatch. This provides ample room for you, your gear, and your access to the wildlife is always excellent.

Fly Between Parks!

Kenya has become more prosperous over the decades. There are far more vehicles using the roads. The congestion on Kenya's roads is incredible. Clouds of dust, diesel fumes, small motorcycles everywhere, stops with super poor restroom facilities are the norm, plus you lose lots of time that is better spent photographing in the game parks where tourist facilities are first-rate. Therefore, to avoid all this and make your wonderful trip the best ever, we have arranged to fly between parks using private charters. Our game-drivers will drive your luggage to the next park, and you will fly carrying just what you need including camera gear until they catch up to us. A couple times, we will take game drives with the camp's drivers when waiting for our driver-guides to catch up to us. While flying does increase the price of your trip, it makes your trip much easier on you! You will love viewing Kenya from the air! Air flights included in the tour price: Nairobi to Amboseli (45 minutes), Amboseli to Samburu (90 minutes), Samburu to Masai Mara (90 minutes), and Masai Mara to Nairobi (45 minutes). Our flights are all private charters, so our group flies together! Flying lets us have more time on game drives and more photo opportunities.

We traveled like this for the first time a few years ago. It is tremendous! We cannot imagine enduring the awful roads when it is so easy to fly from park to park. This is a huge upgrade that makes your trip much better!

Two Nights to Rest Before Visiting the Parks

You will be exhausted after flying for nearly 20 hours from your home to Nairobi, Kenya. You arrive in the evening and are taken directly to the hotel. Often you will not get to bed until 10pm local time or later. By the next morning you are physically not ready to start visiting and photographing in the parks, so we give you the entire day to rest and get a full night to sleep. During the day at the hotel, we meet everyone and teach important photo skills and help you set up your cameras to best advantage. Then you can have a normal night of sleep, have breakfast at the hotel, and transfer you to the nearby airport for our first flight to Amboseli and all the wildlife! You will love it!!!!

Expert Driver-guides

We hand pick our driver-guides who are highly experienced and educated. They are especially tuned into the needs of wildlife photographers. They have guided us many times and know exactly what we are looking for.

Highly Experienced Tour Guides

Both John and Dixie are super experienced professional photographers. Dixie shoots Nikon and John uses Canon. John and Dixie have taught dozens of photo workshops together over the years and John has led more than 40 previous photo tours to Kenya beginning in 1981. Kenya is their favorite tour destination!!!! Plus, in addition to mammals, John and Dixie are both keen bird photographers, so you will photograph more impressive birds on this tour than you expect! While we will always go for the mammals when spotted, this time of year is excellent for local and migrating birds also.

VIP Airside departure assistance

Number of Participants

The group is limited to 13 participants, in addition to John and Dixie. Each safari vehicle accommodates up to three guests, ensuring that every individual has their own row of seats in the Land Cruiser. This arrangement affords ample space for personal equipment and facilitates unobstructed photography from all vantage points within the vehicle. The utilization of multiple safari vehicles enhances the overall experience; during game drives, each vehicle traverses distinct routes through comparable regions of the expansive parks, optimizing wildlife viewing opportunities. While species such as giraffes, zebras, and gazelles are commonly sighted and photographed, more elusive wildlife—such as prides of lions, baby jackals, leopards, or cheetahs—are often discovered by only one vehicle. In these instances, the driver promptly communicates the location via radio, enabling all participants to photograph the remarkable find. Increased vehicle coverage leads to a higher likelihood of encountering exceptional wildlife and capturing outstanding photographs.

Nairobi Jomo Kenyatta Airport

Arriving at JKIA:

Upon arrival at Jomo Kenyatta International Airport (JKIA) please make use of the standard "fly-bridge" or "airport bus service" for the transfer from aircraft to the terminal building. Follow the signs through to "passport control, baggage collections and customs." Remember to complete the "a landing card" or "visa application form" (whichever is applicable on your inbound flight in advance). As you exit the luggage hall and walk into the public arrivals area, you shall be met by our Origins Safaris Guest Relations Officer who shall assist you from that point onwards.

Departing from JKIA:

You will be accompanied by an Origins Safaris Guest Relations Officer to the "second security checkpoint at the departure terminal." It is worth noting that there are currently three layers of security to access the departure area at the airport. On approach to the airport, you will be required to exit the vehicle you are travelling in and walk through a security checkpoint with scanners. Once you have cleared the scanners you will need to wait for your vehicle, which is also being screened. On arrival at the terminal, there is a luggage and body scan to enter the airport buildings. After this you may check in your luggage and pass through to document security and immigration. You will then take an escalator to your departure gate where you will pass through the final security checkpoint.

Private charter flight Cessna C208B Grand Caravan

The Cessna Grand Caravan C208B is a twelve-seat, single engine Cessna. Durable landing gear means you can count on smooth landings. The main gear is a massive steel tube linked directly to the fuselage. Its flexible design is perfect for grass, gravel, and even unimproved airstrips. The nose gear is engineered to absorb both vertical and lateral force by transmitting it to the fuselage. And large, rough-field tires contribute further to the Caravan's rugged flexibility. The Garmin G1000 glass cockpit integrates all primary flight, engine, and sensor data to provide intuitive, at-a-glance situational awareness, in a paperless cockpit. Our pilots have between 3,000 - 13,000 hours all incident free throughout their careers. Additionally, all pilots have FAA (USA) licenses in addition to Kenyan licenses and attend regular factory approved re-current training at Flight Safety International in Wichita, Kansas, where Cessna is based.

Our Photo Strategy

We are pleased to offer wildlife safaris in Kenya, where typically favorable weather conditions and excellent opportunities for wildlife photography await. Of all the workshops John has coordinated over the past 50 years, Kenya remains his most frequently conducted photo tour. Many participants return after experiencing the highlights of Kenya's game parks. Feedback from clients indicates that Kenya is among the most memorable trips they have taken. Our Kenya photo tour continues to be our most popular and often repeated offering.

We leave our lodges at 6:15 am to photograph active wildlife in the early light. Breakfast is eaten in the field around 9 am, and we return by 11:30 am for lunch and a midday break to avoid the intense equatorial sun. Afternoon game drives start around 3:30 or 4 pm and last until sunset at 6:30 pm. Dinner is usually served at 8 pm. Bring a hat for sun protection.

Our game-drivers are experienced friends who understand our preferences, expertly use lighting, and share valuable knowledge about Kenya and its wildlife. Each day, we visit different parts of the park to observe diverse animals. John and Dixie coordinate with driver-guides to maximize photo opportunities and rotate vehicles so everyone meets each guide; they also ride separately to share their expertise with all participants.

When you sign up, you'll receive an in-depth article by John and Dixie on photography during a Kenya safari. Their advice on managing camera equipment and setting up your camera can make quick, accurate photography much easier.

Cost and Payment

The price of this tour is based on thirteen participants. A small surcharge will be necessary if we are shy of thirteen. Nashville, IN 47448

2. Credit card: If you prefer, we accept major credit/debit cards. A 3.75% credit card processing fee applies. How To Successfully Photograph Kenya's Wildlife

When you enroll, we will send you our detailed article about how to successfully photograph Kenya's wildlife. The info covered in this article is based on John's previous forty some Kenya photo safaris he has led. You will also get a trip confirmation letter with more info to help plan your trip.

Thanks for a great photo experience in Kenya. It is always fun to travel with other avid photographers, and to be able to spend our days focusing on getting great shots!

Our guides were knowledgeable and personable, the flights between parks gave us additional time to experience the wildlife, and the lodging was also unique and helped give us full immersion in the safari experience.

I believe another member of our group said it best..... as we were preparing to head to the airport and return home, he said, "Usually by this time, I know the trip is over and I'm ready to be back home," but he added that he would easily have remained for another few days photographing the wildlife! I felt the same way, and I think that says it all.

Figure 4 What might be a good name for this mammal in the Masai Mara? How about the bat-eared fox!

Figure 5 Due to heavy rains in November, the normally dry Samburu was super lush with new green leaves when we arrived to photograph this group of reticulated giraffes.

Figure 13 Eland with calf. The short rains in Kenya occur in Nov. and Dec. By early January, things are drying out and most areas are quite green, and the wildlife often have youngsters with them.

Figure 14 Our group on the 2023-2024 Kenya safari. Note: Three land cruisers are not pictured. We only have three participants per vehicle. The more vehicles, the more you find as each vehicle has a radio to let the others know about a special photo opportunity such as finding a leopard, cheetah, or lions.
